

To Whom It May Concern,

I am pleased to write this letter of recommendation for Andrii, who worked as a front-end developer under my direct supervision at Edumundo. In my role as both CTO and team lead, I had the opportunity to work closely with Andrii and observe his contributions to several key projects.

Andrii was an important part of our team, contributing to the development of various software applications using Vue 3. He was involved in both adding new features and in a significant rewrite of one of our major applications. During this rewrite, Andrii provided valuable input on the application's architecture, helping to ensure that the solution was both scalable and maintainable.

Andrii consistently demonstrated a solid work ethic and was a dependable team player. He worked well with others, meeting deadlines even under pressure, and showed the flexibility needed to adapt when project requirements shifted. His support for his colleagues and commitment to completing tasks efficiently made him a great addition to the team.

Andrii also showed strong problem-solving skills, approaching challenges in a thoughtful and systematic way. His ability to tackle complex problems and find effective solutions contributed to the overall success of the projects he was involved in.

I have no doubt that Andrii will be a valuable asset to any team he joins. Should you have any further questions or need more information about his work, please feel free to contact me.

Sincerely,

Patrick Bouwens
